

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
List of contributors	viii
Raimond Gaita: a brief biography	xi
Preface	xv
Introduction: Philosophy in celebration CHRISTOPHER CORDNER	1
1. Gaita on recognizing the human LARS HERTZBERG	7
2. The work of saintly love: the religious impulse in Gaita's writing STEPHEN MULHALL	21
3. Insanity, crankiness and evil – and other ways of thinking the unthinkable JONATHAN GLOVER	37
4. Gaita and Plato: goodness, love and beauty CHRISTOPHER CORDNER	49
5. Good and Evil and the criminal law ANTONY DUFF	68
6. In search of goodness MARINA BARABAS	82
7. Human dignity between kitsch and deification AVISHAI MARGALIT	106
8. The meaning of what we have done: humanity, invisibility and law in the European settlement of Australia MARTIN KRYGIER	121

vi	Contents
9.	Primo Levi: an appreciation ROBERT MANNE	143
10.	'It goes deep with me': Plato's Charmides on knowledge, self-knowledge and integrity M. M. McCABE	161
11.	Romulus, My Father and the 'virtues of truth' GENEVIEVE LLOYD	181
12.	Form and content in Romulus, My Father PETER COGLAN	197
13.	On adapting Romulus, My Father NICK DRAKE	211
14.	A poem and its hauntings PETER STEELE	220
	Index	232